

Sam & Daniel – 24th July 2015

Hi Claire

Finally I have time to sit down and write a review for others to read :) it's going to be huge so apologies in advance.

Well firstly above everyone else, I must thank you for all the hard work you put into sorting our wedding, at no time did I ever feel worried, in fact I was very chilled about the whole process :)

I love the fact you can build a wedding from scratch with the Yacht Club, you can make it as big as you want or as small as you want, pretty much anything is possible! From flowers, cakes, decorations, the yacht club and Claire have it covered! Which brings me swiftly on to Sylvia, this lady is amazing, she knows what works and what looks nice! She made me cry with how wonderful the room looked on my day. She really is a treasure!

You can choose your own music for the day or use the yacht clubs we chose to have our own, it was lovely :)

We had the celebrant, a lovely gentleman who, I don't know how wore a suit on the day in sweltering heat, very professional, we said our vows (I didn't botch up yey), it runs in the same format as a wedding in the UK.

We actually had some of our guests take our photos, as it was a hobby for a few of them, we felt we didn't need professionals, even though we didn't use them i know Richard and Hannah are the photographers the yacht club use and they do some lovely work.

Ok so where am I up to, oh yes food, we opted for the classic BBQ with entrecôte steak as an added extra, oh my it was gorgeous, lots of food, now I was a bit worried in case there wasn't going to be enough. I was wrong! All of my guests piled their plates high, I think it might have been the best BBQ they had ever been to!

For the evening we had a DJ, now for me if I had the time again, I would have one purely because of the circumstances that happened to me, lots of my guests left early and the rest stayed outside on the seats chilling and chatting. Background music would have been enough or some outside entertainment, so if you have a family that aren't too keen on dancing, your probably best looking into another option for entertainment.

We are a family with children so we decided on a bouncy castle to keep them happy, this was a massive hit! The adults loved it as much as the kids!!!!

To all the staff in the yacht club. They work so hard to make the day run as smoothly as possible, if you are thinking of having your wedding here, go check it out, the views are stunning, the setting is stunning, and most importantly its sunny!!!!

Hope someone will find this review helpful

Sam aka Mrs Harris xxx